All you need to know about your HSBC Credit Card Statement

A Description of Transaction

This section provides details of all payments, purchases, cash advances and credits made during the statement period.

B Statement Date

This signifies the statement generation date. All transactions received and posted till this date from the previous statement date will appear in this statement.

C Card Number

This is your Credit Card number. For shared limits, transaction details of the Supplementary Card account(s) will be printed after the Primary Card transaction details.

D Card Type

This describes the card type.

E Credit Limit

This is the limit for your Credit Card account and covers both the Primary and any shared limit Supplementary Cards.

F Amount

This lists the transaction amount against each payment, purchase, cash advance or credit. All foreign transactions will be automatically converted to the billing currency.

G Closing Balance

This is the total balance as of the statement date.

H Current Minimum Payment Due

This is the minimum amount payable for this statement. The minimum payment is a pre-determined percentage of the outstanding balance.

I Payment Due Date

To keep your account current and to maintain a good Credit Card record, do ensure that your payment is received by us before this date. Payments made by cheque should reach us 5 business days before payment due date.

J Overdue Payment Due Now

This reflects your last statement's minimum payment due. If payment has not been made, this amount is due immediately on receipt of this statement.

K Overlimit Due Now

This reflects your last statement's overlimit amount. If payment has not been made, this amount is due immediately on receipt of this statement.

L Total Minimum Payment Due Now

This signifies the total minimum amount due in this statement. In addition to the current minimum payment due, it includes any other due or overlimit amounts, whichever greater.

M Change of Mailing Address

Do notify us immediately of any changes in your billing details or telephone numbers by filling in your new details on the bottom right hand corner of the statement.

N Payment

Please indicate the amount of payment you are enclosing and attach it with the payment slip.

O Payment Cheque Number

Please write the cheque number and the name of the bank for our reference. Likewise, do not forget to write your Card account number with the corresponding payment amount on the back of your cheque.

P Total Air Miles Balance

Air Miles as of Statement Date Plus Air Miles earned during this billing cycle through your HSBC Card.
